Benefits of Outsourcing

Internal audits often prove to be a challenge for many small to medium sized companies. Companies have two choices: employee internal auditor or outsourced internal auditor. More and more companies are seeing great benefits in outsourcing this critical task.

Meet requirements of management system standards such as ISO Standards, API Specs. Our auditors will provide highly objective and impartial audits that will give you confidence that your system meets management system requirements.

Ensure system is effectively implemented. Our auditors will proactively identify nonconformities before they are found by your certification body or customers.

⇒ Save time and money. Consider the cost of employee internal audits:

- * Employee productivity loss
- * Cost of employee training
- * Employee preparation and reporting time for audit
- * On-going communication
- * Disruption to company operations

⇒ Professional and experienced Certified Lead auditors We can provide auditors that have over 20 years of audit experience and have undergone specialized training in the latest auditing techniques.

⇒ Avoid internal political issues that may arise due to internal department cross-auditing.

Although the benefits of outsourcing are easily justified, if your organization prefers internal employee auditors, The ISO 9001 Group also offers Internal Auditor Training.

“The MIC quality team and I would like to thank the ISO 9001 Group for exceptional service and support. Please know that we selected the ISO Group based on your organizations reputation, experience, and ability to adapt and customize services to best meet our needs. While we used the ISO Group for Internal auditing services at 2 of our sites, I would not hesitate to use you again in other capacities.”
