

Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) Compliance

Contact us today to become OSHA compliant

Under the Occupational Safety and Health Act of 1970, the Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) establishes 29 CFR Part 1910 regulations and standards for employers to ensure a safe and healthy place for their employees. OSHA is responsible for the enforcement of these mandatory regulations and standards within the United States of America. Organizations must comply with these regulations and standards or be subject to penalties and fines, including incarceration. Our health and safety consultants can help your organization establish a safety and health management system to instill the necessary culture to ensure compliance with OSHA 29 CFR Part 1910 regulations.

BENEFITS OF OSHA COMPLIANCE

- ✓ Comply with OSHA 29 CFR Part 1910 regulations

CLIENT TESTIMONIAL

“When we began working with The ISO 9001 Group, the system we had in place did not have the ability to reach the goals that we wanted. With The ISO 9001 Group’s support, we started to develop a more mature system which is now compliant and aligned with PRT Offshore’s vision. I would definitely do business with The ISO 9001 Group again and recommend them to other companies without hesitation. We greatly appreciate the efficient support that we have received. We look forward to continue working together in the future.”
